

Check out The Treehouse in Audubon Friday

BY KEVIN CALLAHAN • COURIER-POST STAFF • MARCH 11, 2010

CAMDEN — The Treehouse Coffee Shop in Audubon will be hosting the youth of UrbanPromise as part of their open mic night this Friday from 6:30-7:30.

During the month of March The Treehouse Coffee Shop is celebrating Youth Art Month by hosting a collection of artwork created by the students of UrbanPromise for their fifth annual Youth Art Month.

Students from the CamdenForward School and UrbanPromise Academy will be on stage reciting poems, singing, and sharing their artistic creations from 6:30-7:30pm.

The performances include 6th grader Kelechi Johnson who will be singing “We are One.” When asked how he chose the song, Kelechi quickly answered, “because it represents family.” A few students even wrote their songs and poems, and will be performing them for the first time.

Check OUT the open mic at the Treehouse tomorrow (March 12th) from 6:30-9:00pm. The coffee shop is located at 120 West Merchant Street in Audubon.